

DEED MAN TO ESCAPE; LOSES AUTO LICENSE

Bates Awaits Trial as Accessory After Fact in Jones Case.

PETERSBURG, Va., June 12.—Frank Jones, who was arrested yesterday by the police after an all-night chase, on the charge of assaulting Officer Bragg Saturday night by hitting him over the head with a bottle, was given a hearing in Police Court this morning and sent to the Huntington Court, charged with the assault.

While Bates, who was arrested, charged with aiding Jones to escape, was fined $100 and had his automobile license revoked permanently by the court. Bates declared that Bates went at the rate of sixty miles an hour when he had Jones on the running board of his car after the latter is alleged to have struck the police officer. Both Bates and Jones are white men.

Another charge, that of being an accessory after the fact, remains against Bates, and is subject to a fine of $500 or twelve months in jail. Officer Bragg appeared in Police Court this morning with a bandaged head, but is expected to be entirely recovered within a few days.

Several well-known "about town" characters have been hauled into court during the past week to explain just how they make a living. Many of the alleged bootleggers, professional gamblers and other sharks are making themselves scarce around the city. While there are quite a few suspects the police merely need evidence, but these individuals will soon have to explain how they make a living.

The Law Enforcement League recently organized in Petersburg is expected to aid the police in combing the city of the notorious individuals who hang about the street corners and do nothing but wrong.

Handsome, recently automobiles are seen on the streets almost daily and, according to the police, a great many of the owners are not capable of carrying more than a load of trouble. These suspects will soon be rounded up.

The city's recent new ordinance, "not to drink," is said to be spreading terror among the alleged bootleggers, bootleggers and craps-shooters.

MACLACHLAN SPEAKER NORMAL SCHOOL FINALS

Happiness, character and what we call "salvation" are by-products of life, says Dr. H. D. C. MacLachlan, D. D., stated in the commencement address of the eleventh exercises of the Richmond City Normal School last night in Lee School auditorium. If we seek these by-products for their own sake, we cannot get them," he declared. "Happiness only comes as a by-product of some worth while task. Character is a by-product of honesty and unselfish labor. Salvation is a by-product of services."

Governor and Mrs. Trinkle were among the prominent Richmonders present. They were given an ovation. Miss Mattie Walker and Miss Dorothy Belinger were leaders in the second-year class in scholarship. ASTORS' "REST" PERIOD AT CLIVEDEN HECTIC

Lord and Lady Attend Derby and Study Coming Legislation.

[By Associated Press.] LONDON, June 12.—Viscount and Lady Astor have been trying to rest at their palatial country estate at Cliveden since their return from America, but in reality their days have been as hectic as any they spent while in the States.

The next day after their return they attended the Derby and next Tamar go past the winning post second only to Captain Cattle. Two days later they witnessed Dogmors winning of the Oaks Stakes. Both these horses are owned by Lord Astor. Since then the Astors have been trying to melt down a great accumulation of correspondence, much of which is incidental to Lady Astor's parliamentary work.

Legislation which Lady Nancy has been trying to help through the House of Commons has necessitated considerable study and numerous conferences with other Commoneers. One bill in which she is interested, the criminal law amendment bill, designed to further safeguard young girls, is scheduled to come before the House Wednesday, two days after Parliament convenes. Another, the Guardianship of Infants bill, also is to have an early hearing.

The day Parliament reassembles will be a busy one for Lady Astor, as that evening she will be the guest of honor at a dinner party at the Hotel Savoy, given by the English-Speaking Union and the American Committee of the League of Nations Union to welcome her from her American pilgrimage. Lord Lee of Fareham will preside, and 450 men and women have been invited.

On June 20 Lady Astor plans to go to Plymouth to participate in the ceremonies welcoming the Prince of Wales on his return from his Far Eastern tour.

The Daily Telegraph, in an editorial on Lady Astor's visit to America, under the caption, "A Bridge Across the Atlantic," says: "That Lady Astor has succeeded in drawing together the American and English peoples we have no doubt, and apart from the personal triumph she achieved she did to that extent further justify, if further justification was needed, the daring of the electors of Plymouth and the chairmen of the House of Commons to adopt in favor of this feminine invader of its traditions."

THREE FAST BOXING MATCHES EXPECTED

Lovers of boxing will witness some fast action the night of June 22 at the Church Hill Athletic Association park, when Joe Dundee, of Baltimore, and Young Bowen, of Washington, step ten rounds in an all-star program. These boys are training hard and will strive earnestly to please the association members.

But the Bowen-Dundee match is not the whole show. There happens to be two eight-round bouts arranged between "Red" Leonard, the boy from Newport News, with the fiery battle and Lew Dempsey, Baltimore lad, and Al Holman and Johnny Belham. Since both Leonard and Dempsey participated in the opening outdoor program at the Church Hill Association park two weeks ago, their ability is known, and each has his followers.

Members are now renewing their cards. Those applying for membership must place application in the hands of the association officials by June 19, because no application will be considered after that date.
